

*Images shown represent a selection of our legal side badge options only

With all the recent changes in number plate legislation - BSAU 145e, GB Euro badges being outlawed and the introduction of green badges for zero emission vehicles to name but three - we understand if you're confused about what you're permitted (or able) to print and display on UK road legal plates.

Use the table below to give you an overview of what the printer you're operating is able to produce in addition to the vehicle registration.
